My personal skills and qualities:

I am a very dedicated and hard-working person; although I was only in my previous job for a year, I was quickly promoted to an unqualified teacher role and was given responsibility for practical maths alongside my job as a PE Assistant. I work well in a team and as an individual. I am enthusiastic and passionate about sport and PE and this, along with my approachability, helps me to build strong relationships with students. I am reliable and patient, which was evident in my roles at The Meadows School, HMP Durham and the underprivileged camp where I worked in America, during the summer of 2016. I am open minded to new challenges and am willing to push myself out of my comfort zone and into new areas and environments in order to develop myself as a person and to also understand people from a range of backgrounds and who have had different experiences in life. This will help me to understand what works best for a variety of different people and will be crucial in my adventures in the upcoming years.

My other interests and hobbies:

Aside from sport I have a keen interest in the gym, I have been going regularly for 7 years now and it is one place I spend a lot of my free time. I also enjoy swimming, outdoor walking, and travelling as I am able to meet people from all different areas and cultures around the world. When I am at home I like to watch whatever sport is on TV, especially football, tennis and darts. Overall my life revolves around sport, which is why I have developed into a very active and outgoing person. I am currently trying to learn how to cook a range of different dishes, as beans on toast is just about all I can currently make!
