My personal skills and qualities:

I am passionate about every aspect of sport and am eager to learn everything I can to make me a more successful teacher. I really enjoy both the practical and theory side of PE and I am highly motivated to develop and learn new and existing skills. I believe through my experiences at University and playing team sports, I work well in a team. These experiences have also helped me to improve my communication skills, particularly when communicating in different situations with different groups; I have found that differentiation in this area is essential to be a successful team-player and leader. I am always happy to seek advice when teaching sports and topics I am less familiar with and believe it is important to seek help and guidance in these areas to make me a better teacher. I strongly feel that to be an outstanding teacher you have to model the behaviour and standards that you want to see from the students you teach and I always try to be a good role model in every aspect of my teaching, from kit to behaviour. Ultimately, my goal is to become a successful teacher and help as many young people as I can, become passionate about sport and physical education.

My other interests and hobbies:

As an advocate for the benefits of physical activity, I try to be as active as I can. My main sport is football and I have been a member of various teams, playing in (and winning) the BUCS league at University. I enjoy watching live sport such as tennis and football and also trying different exercise classes, such as pilates and spinning. I have had a job since I was 17 years old (at Boots and then Smiggle) and only recently left my last job to focus on teaching. I love spending time with my friends and travelling to new places and have recently been to Rome, Berlin, Malta and Amsterdam. However, I love fitting travelling in with attending sporting events, such as going to see El Clasico when I was in Barcelona. I also love watching live music and have attended a number of music festivals and gigs in the last couple of years.
