The strengths I have within my teaching:

Core Subjects	Physical Education	Other
I have considerably improved my subject knowledge in the core subjects during my PGCE year. Throughout my training, various CPD courses have enabled me to gain a very secure understanding of the English and Maths curriculum and a range of effective teaching methods. They have also enabled me to reflect on my practice. I have quickly found Maths to be my main core subject strength. During my initial Host School placement summative assessments showed that the children made above expected progress during my time teaching them. The children also made expected progress in English.	I have vast subject knowledge of sport that has been enhanced and nurtured during my training year so that I now have a good understanding of the difference between sport and Physical Education and between coaching and teaching. I understand how to deliver an effective lesson and in particular how to include all individuals and suitably differentiate activities. NGB Teachers Courses: British Gymnastics Core Proficiency, England Netball High 5, RFU Kids First Tag/Rugby Ready, FA Primary Teachers, EWCB Primary Cricket, Tennis Foundation Primary School Tennis Teacher, England Athletics Primary Run, Throw and Jump, YST Bupa Start to Move, YST Matalan TOP Sport, Sainsbury's Inclusive Practice in PE. NGB Accredited Courses: Level 2 Badminton, First Aid, Safeguarding & Protecting Children, Disability and Inclusion.	Other subjects that I have developed through my PGCE include Computing, in particular how to code information and the need for e-safety. Additionally, I observed a Lego Therapy Club and gained an insight into how to differentiate and appropriately challenge children with autism. I will also teach Science throughout my training year and gain some experience in the foundation subjects. My mentors in my initial placement identified my teaching strengths as classroom presence, behaviour management and differentiation; all of which I used effectively to ensure that pupils made progress in my lessons.

My personal skills and qualities:

I am an enthusiastic individual with an inherent drive for success in everything I do. I am extremely passionate about the power of sport and education within a child's life. From a diverse upbringing, education has helped me shape my own future and become the person I want to become. Through experiencing role models such as teachers I have developed a strong belief in working hard for anything you want in life, whether it is academic or practical goals. As a result, I aspire to become a role-model for young children and relish the opportunity to shape a child's life. My sporting lifestyle, I believe, enables me to be the confident, personable individual I am today. I love working with people and always work in a professional manner. I actively seek to get the best out of everything and everyone around me.

My other interests and hobbies:

I lead a very active, healthy lifestyle which practically revolves around sport. My proudest sporting achievements include my top 30 ranking in the country for badminton and competing at the English National Championships. I also successfully led the Northumbria University badminton teams to winning 5 titles in the two short years I coached them. As a junior I represented Tyne and Wear for 1500m and X-Country, played football for local premier division teams such Whitley Bay Juniors and North Shields, played cricket for Percy Main and became a qualified amateur boxer. When I am not playing sport my other hobbies and interests include cooking, spending time with close family members and socialising with friends. I also enjoy travelling; in search of new exciting adventures and activities.
