My personal skills and qualities:

In year 11 at school I was given a once in a lifetime opportunity to represent my school in a selective volunteer programme in an American summer camp; this is where I developed my confidence and love of helping people. I have also been nominated for volunteer of the year twice within my county due to my dedication to my swimming club. I believe that I quickly build a strong rapport with pupils and staff. I am a strong believer that extracurricular activities provide positive opportunities for students and that is why I am keen to contribute to this element of school life. The main personal qualities I have are that I am organised, hardworking, patient and resilient, which I believe to be very useful within teaching, especially trying to reach those pupils who may not be interested in school or PE. I am excited to put these qualities to use in a teaching environment.

My other interests and hobbies:

I enjoy being physically active and apart from swimming my other interests are camping, the outdoors, travelling and exploring new places. I am fortunate to have travelled a lot and seen many places in the world, including: Maldives, Kenya, Sri Lanka, Mexico, Egypt and Europe. I would love to see Australia and one day fulfil my dream of swimming with a Whale Shark. The Lake District is one of my favourite places to spend time in the UK, with its vast views and things to do. Additionally, art and design have always been a part of my life. I really enjoy designing and creating things. I have applied this hobby to the swimming club I volunteer in, by creating a variety of different promotional posters. However, when I have time, I enjoy drawing and trying out new creative things. Over the last year I have taken up an interest in Pilates. I am also interested in completing my diving course so I can explore more of the underwater world.
