I am able to get the best out of students at all ability levels. Another strength of mine is lesson differentiation; I believe that all teachers should be able to design an inclusive, engaging and informative lesson for all students regardless of their individual requirements. I always set high expectations for behaviour, performance and commitment during my lessonsI am a huge believer in the positive effects of extra-curricular school sport and hope to play a vital part in this during my NQT year

My personal skills and qualities:

A very determined, friendly and approachable individual with sufficient practical and academic experience who will stop at nothing to ensure every student receives the highest possible quality of education. I am always searching for ways in which to improve as a teacher/coach and have faith in my ability to lead and instruct lessons in an informative, constructive and fun manner. I am able to work effectively both as an individual and as part of a team. Reflection is a key element within my teaching arsenal; I feel it is vital that all teaching practitioners aim to improve their subject based knowledge and delivery skills on a frequent basis. My passion is to help students enhance their sporting ability and physical literacy whilst experiencing a wide variety of sports and physical activities. I feel my strong leadership and communication skills are paramount to the provision of a successful learning environment. Building and maintaining a positive rapport with both staff and students is a major strength of mine. I feel that mutual respect is a vital component within an effective teaching process.

My other interests and hobbies:

Avid winter sports enthusiast. Keen rock climber and frequent fitness goer. Interests in Motorsport and many other sports including Football, American Football, Basketball, Tennis and Golf. Very interested in the scientific elements surrounding sport and exercise including psychology, physiology and sports medicine, which I was able to put into practice whilst working for the Samoa International Rugby Union sports therapy team during the 2015 Rugby World Cup. I am always hunting for new and unique sports coaching qualifications that can help enhance my professional portfolio. I have future aspirations of achieving my UEFA A license in Football Coaching and Management. Beyond sport I like to spend valuable time with family and friends and possess a love of travelling, music and film.
