My personal skills and qualities:

As a trainee teacher I am passionate about showing my love for sport and love to link learning to role models in the sporting industry to support my passion. Extra-curricular sport is not something I feel I have to do; I choose to do it because it is exciting; the feeling of being back at school and getting excited for clubs is one of the best memories of my school days. My creativity skills help me provide useful resources and inclusive lessons when I am teaching. I communicate effectively with colleagues to share teaching ideas and to build on my subject knowledge. I have strong leadership skills and work effectively in a team, respecting everyone I work with and valuing their contributions. I work hard to establish a positive learning environment in my lessons and to develop positive relationships with students.

My other interests and hobbies:

A sports enthusiast with a hunger for always reaching new goals. I have been surrounded by sport my whole life and this has given me the drive to be involved in as much as I can. I go to the gym on a daily basis and continue to play rugby league in the summer for my local team in Cumbria. I love to face challenges in my spare time and have completed the 32 mile Workington to Keswick walk 2 years in a row to raise money for charity. Throughout my undergraduate course I was involved in a variety of volunteering roles working with SEND students from local primary schools and adults from the local community to provide them with opportunities to participate in sport. I enjoy socialising and watching sport with my friends and spending time with my family. Having younger siblings is great; I get to go bowling, watch Disney movies at the cinema and dress up as a 6ft 5 elf at Christmas! I also enjoy travelling around Europe in the summer.
