My personal skills and qualities:

I believe that my greatest asset is my presence, whether that be in a classroom, a practical lesson or around school in general. This allows me to build positive relationships with students which I believe to be key to engaging them in lessons. I am a very enthusiastic, self-motivated and competitive individual who always strives to excel in everything I do. This has led to a large part of my early teaching philosophy being centred on having unlimited aspirations for all students and ensuring everyone is inspired and supported to achieve above and beyond expectations. I think that academic excellence should always be supported by excellence in character, ensuring that students become the best version of themselves and are prepared to be successful for life outside of the classroom in an ever-changing global society; this is something I aim to develop through both my lessons and extra-curricular provision. I constantly reflect on my practice in order to improve my performance in both a personal and a professional capacity, showing my passion for the subject as a whole. My ultimate aim as a teacher is to provide outstanding, engaging and enjoyable lessons ensuring students are consistently making progress and are establishing positive attitudes around physical education, physical activity and sport that will last for a lifetime.

My other interests and hobbies:

As an all-round sports enthusiast coming from a strong sporting family, I spend a lot of my time watching and participating in sport. I represent my local club at rugby union and sometimes play netball for a recreational team. I am an avid walker and in my spare time can often be found up a mountain in the Peak or Lake District National Parks. Outside of competitive sport I spend as much time as possible with my family, especially my younger siblings; taking my younger brother to football and my sister swimming each week when possible. I enjoy travelling whether this be in the UK or abroad and I am hoping to visit every capital city in Europe over the coming years! Being an Outdoor Activity Instructor at Kingswood prior to starting my teacher training has given me a passion for OAA and I go back to visit my colleagues and run weekend visits when possible; keeping my climbing, abseiling and laser quest skills sharp!
