As a result of this and my training during my PGCE year I am confident teaching across all areas of the national curriculum at key stage three and fourI have strong subject knowledge and understanding of theory PE from studying sport at levels 2, 3, undergraduate and postgraduate. As part of my PGCE I have received training in all aspects of theory PE and have had opportunities to teach across key stages four and fiveI have the ability to build rapport with students quickly and maintain strong relationships and can communicate effectively with other staff members and maintain professional working relationships

My personal skills and qualities:

I am an individual who constantly reflects on my own practice to bring about further improvements. I always listen to, take on board and respond well to any feedback that will make me better at what I do. I work well with others and enjoy being a part of a team. I can build positive and professional working relationships with other members of staff and the students I am teaching and have mutual respect as a foundation for these relationships. I demand high standards of myself and believe I am a hardworking and resilient trainee teacher. I have the best interests of the students at heart and am very passionate about the benefits of physical education and sport and how they can help students to develop. I relish the opportunity to continually improve my knowledge in identified areas for development and further develop my strengths in order to stretch and challenge both myself and the students I teach.

My other interests and hobbies:

I enjoy being physically active and currently play football for Newcastle United Women in the Fourth Tier of Women's National Football. I have also represented Sunderland Ladies, England Colleges National Team and captained Northumbria University Women. When growing up netball was my main sport and I was lucky enough to represent the UAE, Dubai U17 National Team at the European Championships where we finished the competition unbeaten and I was proudly awarded player of the tournament. In addition, I enjoy going to the gym and running in my free time away from team training and matches. Socialising and spending time with family and friends is important to me. I also enjoy travelling and visiting different places across the world and within the UK.

Preferred location:

North East
