My personal skills and qualities:

At school I received sportsmanship awards and female sports person of the year award. My effort and contribution to sport is something that has always been very consistent in my life and is now evident in my teaching, where I put my heart and soul into being the best that I can be. I pride myself on my ability to create positive and supportive relationships with those that I come across, both as colleagues and students, and strive to build strong connections to enhance engagement and productivity. This is achieved through my approachable and adaptable nature which enables me to create a fair, firm and cooperative environment where students can thrive. I am passionate about increasing activity levels amongst young people and encouraging positive healthy habits in students and therefore, I hold extra-curricular sport and exercise programmes in high regard, valuing their impact on students' health and wellbeing and commit to this fully.

My other interests and hobbies:

Sport is a huge part of my life. I play club football, love watching sport and am also an avid Newcastle United support. Beyond sport I enjoy being able to go back to my hometown of Scarborough and spend time catching up with family and friends. I love to travel and explore new places - Brighton and the Lake District are recent favourite destinations in this country.
