My personal skills and qualities:

I am a passionate and positive individual who has continually developed knowledge and understanding of PE by being involved in sporting teams and different events over the years. This has not only built my knowledge for sporting activities but has also allowed me to build relationships with teammates and develop rapport with individuals. This is reflected in my own practice when teaching students as I am quickly able to build positive relationships supported by strong communication skills. I am passionate about sport and continue to participate as I believe this will help students to see me as a positive role model. As I continue to develop my knowledge and gain more experience teaching, I am also gaining confidence around pedagogical practices that can be used and am working to embed these in all aspects of my practice. I am a highly organised individual, I always meet deadlines, complete paperwork and prepare for lessons well in advance as I find it beneficial to establishing calm and methodically progressive learning opportunities.

My other interests and hobbies:

I am an all round lover of sport. I continue to compete in football having first started at 6 years old and am immensely proud to have represented my country. I also enjoy watching Athletics, mainly the Olympics and I find this motivating and inspiring. When I am not participating in football, I am always fulfilling a healthy and active lifestyle. I am very determined in my approach to this within diet and fitness, I therefore put a lot of time into meal planning and exercising everyday. Outside of sport, I have developed an interest over the last year in walking and climbing the peaks around the country. This included climbing my first fell (Catbells) in the summer which has given me a different focus to walking and enjoying outdoor life. I also began baking a lot during lockdown and have continued with this since, making meals and new recipes such as sweet treats in my spare time. My speciality is definitely the chocolate brownie!
